Dear Friends:

Over the past three years, the freshman class has brought an average of 250 new students to our campus each year. The Alumni Association has strongly supported the recruiting efforts of the campus. This support has been a priority for the Alumni Board of Directors and has taken several forms.

For the past two years, board members and other alumni have sponsored and participated in a series of receptions for prospective students. In 1999 there were nine such receptions held during the Spring and Summer months in Chicago, Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, South Bend, Northwest Indiana, Detroit, and St. Louis. Approximately 80% of the prospective students who attended made application to the College.

Some of the board members have assisted the Admissions Office by representing SJC at college fairs. This assistance has helped to broaden the geographic area that the College can cover by actually supplementing the size of the Admissions Office's staff.

Alumni board members and additional alumni have participated in a telephone follow-up program with prospective students and their parents. Participants stay in touch with a small group of three to five prospective students in an attempt to offer support, answer questions, and facilitate the application process.

Finally, many alumni participated in the Alumni Endorsed Admission Application Program. Alumni are able to provide a tangible benefit to prospective students by endorsing applications and saving the prospective student the $25 application fee. This past year, this program was very successful with 235 endorsed applications.

These activities have raised cooperation between the Admission staff and the Alumni Board to an unprecedented level. I hope we can involve many more Alumni in the recruiting efforts of the College. If you know of a good prospective student, need an admission application, have specific questions, or want to become involved, please contact the Office of Admissions at 1-800-447-8781.

Sincerely,

Welcome, Class of 2003! Largest Class Since 1984

They have arrived—the class of 2003. They have their own personality, spirit, and style. They are eager to learn, prove their independence, and make their mark at Saint Joseph's College.

The class of 2003 is very special, whether they know it or not, for they are the largest class that the College has welcomed since 1984.

Indeed, this class of 295 freshman have infused the campus with renewed energy and vitality.

In the beginning, their faces reflected the typical emotions that most freshmen experience—nervousness, eagerness, uneasiness, and excitement. They began their college career with a flurry of activities that took place during a whirlwind four days!

The freshmen participated in a wide variety of events including Puma Olympics, a scavenger hunt, picnics, and an All College Academic Convocation. The events were designed to help

Why did you choose SJC:

"I wanted to get away from the fast pace of California. I really wanted to seek a change and find time to study. I was also very interested in the Core program."

College ambition: "I plan to absorb the whole college experience and then take it with me through life. I want to succeed in whatever path I choose to take. I feel that Saint Joseph's College can help me get there."

First impression: "Wow, what a beautiful school, especially in comparison to the colleges I've seen in California. The people are friendly too!"

Heroes: "My uncle Darrell because he went from rags to riches. He's an entrepreneur."

Favorite thing to do:

"Are you kidding, SLEEP!"

Favorite food: "Hey, I'm still a growing boy, I'll eat anything."

Hopefully, you will encourage prospective students to visit campus, send in their application, and enroll as a Saint Joseph's College student. These prospective students and their families will appreciate having contact with someone who has benefited from the educational experience that Saint Joseph's College has to offer.

At the Crossroads: Time for Change

Saint Joseph's College is sitting at the crossroads. One direction will lead the College into a new millennium of growth with new and updated facilities. The other will leave the campus just as it is. The decision cannot be made by the faint of heart for it involves some risk, nor is it a decision for a sentimentalist. It is, however, a decision that the College's Board of Trustees faced earlier this year.

The Board decided to look toward the future. In the current higher education marketplace there are two kinds of colleges, the quick and the dead. The thought of SJC falling into the latter category was unthinkable. The Board looked at Saint Joseph's through the eyes of its customer, a 17-year-old high school senior, and viewed the College as if they were prospective students.

To Saint Joseph's credit, the College offers excellent academics and teaches a "cutting edge" general education program called Core. SJC boasts a winning athletic tradition and demonstrates genuine concern for its students.

However, a campus tour unveiled some very real negatives. The residence halls look tired and are not competitive when compared with the accommodations at other colleges. The athletic facility is in need of updating and expansion, and the College's chapel needs attention. The Board determined that these discoveries could impact a prospective student's decision to attend Saint Joseph's College.

SJC is falling behind the competition with the physical attributes of the campus. The Board also admitted that some of the above-cited positives, such as Core, are hard to impress upon a young adult and therefore not a powerful tool in the recruitment of students.

Clearly, change is necessary. A time for growth is indicated. The Board made the decision to move forward with the construction of a new residential suite complex and to rehabilitate Halas and Gallagher Halls.

Under Construction: New Digs for a New Century

On October 22, 1999, with a blessing said and heavy construction equipment doing the dirty work, Saint Joseph's College moved "heaven and earth" to grow into the next millennium. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held to kick-off the construction of a new $3.3 million dollar residential suite complex. It was a day that had been anxiously anticipated for a very long time.

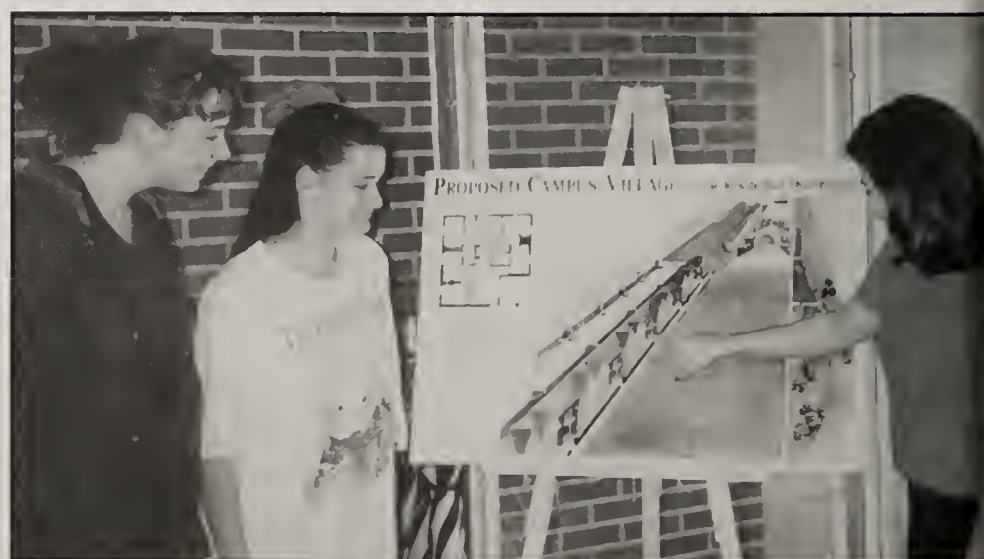

The ability for SJC to become more competitive in the recruitment of prospective students is certainly a major reason for the expansion of the residence halls. All of the current residence halls are over thirty years old. The halls have long corridors, central bath facilities, lack air conditioning, and do not offer an inviting environment for social gathering. Today's college student expects much more from a residential living experience.

Saint Joseph's College has embarked on a building and renovation plan that will create new suites in a village concept, and renovate our current residence halls into air-conditioned suites offering two and three person units. The new and updated facilities will be an asset in the recruitment of new students, and improve the living conditions for all SJC students.

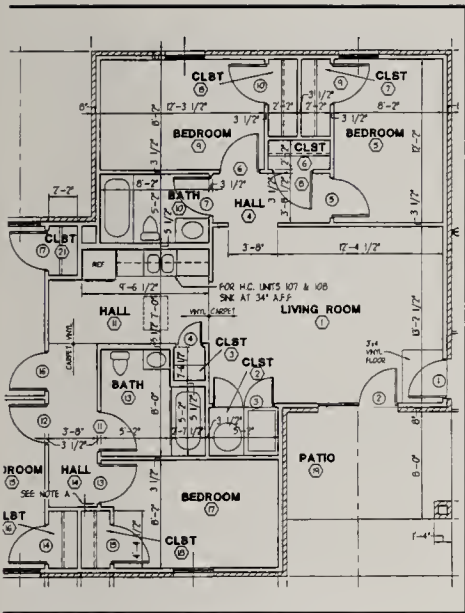

The village concept will allow students to live in 20 suites with private bedrooms and also associate in a family room and patio area. The new construction will create a village atmosphere allowing students a greater opportunity to associate in modern, comfortable, and private residences at affordable costs. The new complex will provide housing for 95 students.

If you ask any college graduate to name the highlights of their college adventures, they will undoubtedly tell you about memorable times spent in the residence halls. Memories and life long friendships are forged in those buildings. Residence halls play a leading role in shaping a young person into a happy and responsible adult. That's another reason why modern and comfortable housing has become a priority for SJC.

The residential suite complex will be available for occupancy in the fall of 2000.

No Parking: Addressing Immediate Needs

Two areas of the campus have been identified as needing immediate attention. The College's chapel is unmistakably the most recognizable landmark for the campus and must not be allowed to fall into disrepair. Also, the athletic facilities must be updated in order to serve the current student-athletes and be an effective tool for coaches to utilize when recruiting new student-athletes.

A committee led by Father James Challancin, campus chaplain, is working on a renovation plan for the chapel. The chapel is in need of major renovation that may include remodeling, roof repair, liturgy space, refinishing pews, adding air conditioning, and replacing the sound system. The most critical need is the refurbishing of the chapel's 12 stained glass windows. The Council of Fellows have decided to support this project and hope to raise the $250,000 needed to accomplish this task (see article titled "Fellows Adopt Chapel Windows").

With 40% of the total SJC student body participating in athletics, it is imperative that the athletic facilities be improved through renovation and new construction. A master plan that will address these needs has been drafted as a roadmap to illustrate where the College is headed. The plan is flexible and changes can be made. The College plans to implement this plan, with a price tag of three to four million dollars, in four phases.

Straight Ahead: Into the Future

The best way to predict the future of Saint Joseph's College is to build it. In light of the facility needs that are surfacing, it now makes sense to develop a Master Facilities Plan to take the College through the next decade and beyond. However, a long-range plan for facilities development will require lots of imagination. It will require one to think with a different perspective - what academics call a "paradigm shift." In order to compile this plan, a leap of imagination is necessary.

That's just what Saint Joseph's College is trying to do. Project itself into the future by looking at where we are now, where we want to be, and what is needed to get us there. In short, SJC is trying to envision the "Big Picture."

Accomplishing such long-range planning is not an easy task. We need experts to assist us in using our creativity and in helping us to organize our needs and wants. We need assistance to think larger than our current financial picture will allow and to plan for the future, not just today.

This mind-boggling task will require us to think about how we will serve all of our constituencies. Through this process, we will define a self-fulfilling prophecy for our own successful future.

Is this complicated process necessary to consider expanding and revamping our physical campus? You bet! Unless we dream beyond what we already have, we will never grow. Saint Joseph's College plans to grow.

Merge: Moving from Needs to Vision

"Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed people can change the world.

Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has."

In April of 1999, President Shannon proposed to the Board of Trustees that a professional consulting group be engaged to begin the task of researching and compiling a Master Physical Facilities Plan for the College. The Board not only supported the idea, but also personally funded the project.

The InterDesign Group, Inc., an architecture/engineering firm located in Indianapolis, Indiana has been retained to lead a participatory planning process. They will work with a SJC task force that represents various campus constituencies to create a master facilities plan. Objectives of the master planning process will include:

- (1) Developing a road map to guide physical development of the campus;
- (2) The identification and prioritization of facility needs and land use;
- (3) To establish a general scope, location, and budget for each project;
- (4) To coordinate the plan with other strategic SJC planning initiatives;
- (5) To serve as a resource to support a capital campaign; and
- (6) To provide a stewardship tool for the Board of Trustees.

Getting started with the planning process can be painful. Putting together several people from all walks of campus with different priorities and needs and then asking them to dream is quite challenging.

You may think that this sounds like fun, yes? Well, just ask any of the individuals who are participating and they will tell you that it is tough to get started. Imagine being an artist and beginning with a blank canvas, or a writer and sitting down to an empty piece of paper. That's what these people felt like.

The planning committee is determined to create a masterpiece for future Pumas and also preserve the College's rich past. They are being asked to think "outside of the box" and express what is needed for the future of Saint Joseph's College. Addressing major renovations, building projects, and traffic patterns is a major responsibility.

Thinking "outside of the box" takes practice, but practice makes perfect, and this group of talented and caring individuals is striving for perfection!

Yield: Planning for Progress

The actual planning process for the development of a Master Facilities Plan is taking several months. InterDesign Group, Inc. has approached the task in three major steps. First, they will gather information by taking an inventory of the campus and evaluating the physical condition of each building. They will meet with every campus department and conduct discovery meetings to ask questions and gather information.

Second, they will explore design options to compliment a strategic plan that has already been established by the College.

Third, they will develop a plan that will include a budget and timeline. It will include a land use and a site plan. The land use plan might include possible campus acquisition and expansion. A site plan will identify building or renovation projects. The plan will also discuss landscaping, pedestrian and vehicular circulation, and parking. Priorities and a method for phasing in the final recommendations will also be included.

Green Light: Proceed with Excitement

After a final Master Facilities Plan has been created, it will be presented to its founding fathers, the Board of Trustees. It is expected that this will take place at the January, 2000 Board of Trustees' Meeting.

The Board of Trustees has issued a challenge to the entire SJC family. That challenge is to raise two million dollars within the next two years to begin the implementation of the Master Facilities Plan. It is likely that a major capital campaign will be implemented in 2003-2004 to support the recommendations.

These days the campus is buzzing with excitement. Words like challenge, vision, and increased enrollment are spoken with confidence and without fear. This is an exciting time to be associated with Saint Joseph's College.

It was once said, "Some people dream of success while others wake up and work hard at it." The people of Saint Joseph's College are actively planning and working toward the future. This campus is not sleepy. It is wide-awake and ready to build toward the future.

There's No Place Like Home: Homecoming 1999

editor's note: Thank you Logan Torbet (age 7) for helping me to write this article. Logan is an authority on the Wizard of Oz.

On Saturday September 18, Puma alumni followed the "cardinal and purple" road back to campus proving that there's no place like home to celebrate with friends. Like the tin man from the Wizard of Oz, Pumas realized that having a heart involved caring for their friends. Puma alumni discovered that returning to Saint Joseph's and seeing old friends stirred their hearts with joy and emotion.

Unlike Dorothy, who weathered a tornado, Pumas had a beautiful day for fun in the sun. The fighting Puma football team defeated the Malone College Pioneers from Canton, Ohio with a final score of 12-6.

During half time, the SJC Marching Band performed along with the SJC cheerleaders. The homecoming court was introduced and Tamara Bumpers '00 was named Homecoming Queen with Elbert Henderson '00 named King.

The annual Alumni Banquet and Dance was held on Saturday evening. Following the dinner, awards were presented by the Alumni Association. SJC line backer, Elbert Henderson '00 was recognized as the winner of the Rudy Volz Memorial MVP Award for his outstanding performance during the homecoming football game.

The Alumni achievement award was presented to Robert V. Monfort, J.D. '72 for demonstrated excellence in his career and community involvement. Judge Monfort was appointed to the Superior Court II of Jasper County in 1994. Prior to that, he served his country as a Marine and maintained a law practice in Rensselaer, Indiana. In his community, he is active with the Pioneers which is an organization that helps at-risk youth,

Old Friends

editor's note: A poem about friendship by Christine Scafide '00. Maybe those who attended Homecoming 1999 experienced these feelings.

Miles away and time apart
the years have come and gone.
You're all grown up and have found success,
you've been waiting for so long.

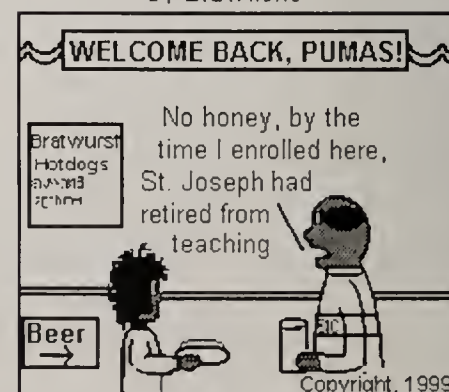

It's been so long since I've heard from you.
I pray you're feeling fine.
I wonder if you think about me,
we've lost a lot of time.

We've been through so much, both good and bad.
I'm so proud to call you my friend!
When times are rough and you've lost all hope,
my ear, I'm still willing to lend.

I'm so proud of all the things you've done,
I wish I could be near.
To be there for the special times
and to help you through your fear.

During this time our lives have changed, our paths will always twist and bend.
But something will forever remain the same...
we will always be old friends.

Richard T. Vallin '59 was the recipient of the Alumni Service Award for his selfless giving of time, talent, and service to the College. Vallin was a member of the Alumni Board for twelve years and served as president for three years, vice president for seven years, and the chairman of homecoming for four years. He was also a member of the Board of Trustees for three years. He is currently the CEO of Advanced Manufacturing Technologies, Inc. in Grafton, Wisconsin. Vallin and his wife, Angie, are also proud Puma parents. Their daughters, Anne '86 and Meri '91, graduated from Saint Joseph's College.

Three deserving people shared the Chapter Person of the Year Award. This award recognizes individuals who have greatly contributed to the strengthening and development of the Alumni Association Chapter Development Project. The recipients were Ann O'Hara '85, Lisa Baci, Sheridan '93, and Bonnie Ritzi Wood '85.

O'Hara is the president of the Indianapolis

Chapter. Through her leadership the chapter has offered many fun events for Pumas and their families. She also organized a newsletter so that the chapter will stay in touch. This year the chapter also organized a reverse raffle and used the proceeds to fund cash awards for three Indianapolis SJC students. Ann is an attorney with the Indianapolis law firm of Lewis and Kappes. She specializes in estate planning and tax law.

Sheridan creates the newsletter for the Indianapolis Chapter and handles public relations. She and her husband, Bob '94, have been very active in the recruitment of young alumni into the chapter. Lisa recently made the decision to leave her marketing coordinator position with Crowe Chizek to become a stay at home mom for her son, James. In December, she will complete her master's degree in library science through Indiana University.

Wood is the vice president for the Indianapolis Chapter. She was instrumental in organizing the reverse raffle and was responsible for its success. Bonnie recently left a position with Cannon IV of Indianapolis to spend time with her husband, Keith, and children, Elizabeth and Grant.

The first Homecoming of the new millenium will be held on September 23. Please mark this important date on your calendar and remember, "There's no place like home."

Rare Books Offer "Wisdom of the Ages"

It is not often that a person is able to hold history in the palm of their hand, but that is just what SJC students did in the Robinson Memorial Library. In celebration of the thirtieth year of Core, an exhibit of over one hundred first and early edition books, which have been written over the past 2,500 years and focus on the subject of liberty, were available for students to freely read and handle.

This rare collection, called the "Wisdom of the Ages," has been made available to demonstrate that the idea of liberty (educational and cultural) did not suddenly spring up and that it must never be taken for granted. Over a period of time, many original works are edited and the original message changed. The Remnant Trust, curators of the "Wisdom of the Ages," make collections of rare books available to general audiences so that they may be studied and shared. It is their intention that the originals must be revisited to clearly understand the intent of the author.

The Remnant Trust adopted its name and sense of mission from the biblical notion of "the remnant." Those people were fortunate enough to survive the Chaldean onslaught of 587 BC and the earlier Assyrian attack of 722-701 BC. Members of the remnant set forth to preserve what was there before by carefully examining ancient wisdom and sharing it with the masses.

Among the works displayed at Saint Joseph's College were John Smith's, Defence of the Constitutions of Government of the United States of America; Aristotle's, Ethics, Politics and Economy; John Locke's, Essay Concerning Human Understanding; Thomas Paine's, Age of Reason; Plato's, Republic; St. Augustine's, City of God; and Thoreau's, A Yankee in Canada.

The Core curriculum at Saint Joseph's College is structured around the over-arching theme of "Christian Humanism." As a College, the pursuit of Truth is our focus. This pursuit of Truth encompasses truths about our world, people and God.

Aristotle wrote, "All who have meditated on the art of governing mankind are convinced that the fate of empires depends on the education of youth." Having these books available for students to read was a valuable resource in their quest for Truth.

Fellows' Dinner Fosters Fellowship

Over 250 Fellows and their guests attended the 1999 Fellows' Dinner. The dinner, always held on the first Saturday in June, offered entertainment, fellowship, and a delicious menu of foods. Professor John Egan served as the Master of Ceremonies.

Much was accomplished at the dinner, including the induction of 31 new Fellows. Changes to the Fellows' Program, effective in July of 1999, were unveiled (see article titled "Fellows Program looks for Renewal") and Dr. Kenneth Ahler '62 challenged the Fellows to raise the necessary funds to restore the 12 stained glass windows in the College's chapel (see article titled "Fellows Adopt Chapel Windows").

Honored at this year's dinner as distinguished Fellows were John and Anne-Marie Egan and Harvey and Carol Wood. They were recognized for their contributions to the Fellows Program and to the College.

Honored at the annual Fellows' Dinner were (L-R) Anne-Marie and John Egan and Carol '74 and Harvey Wood. They were recognized for their long-term contributions to the Fellows' program and the College.

PROFILE: FATHER KOSTKA

editor's note: This profile was a pleasure to write. It allowed me the opportunity to sit down and talk with a friend. When I was a child, my Grandfather called a person that he liked a "dandy," so I couldn't resist using that term of endearment for Father Leonard Kostka, C.P.P.S., '35. I hope that I have been able to capture with words what makes Father Kostka so special to so many. Father Kostka loves to hear from alumni and friends of the College. Please feel free to write him at P.O. Box 831, Rensselaer, IN 47978.

Father Kostka: "A Dandy with Candy"

The old saying, "What goes around comes around," certainly applies to Father Leonard Kostka, C.P.P.S., '35. He cares about people and, in return, people treasure and admire him.

In fact, this priest has quite a following with the youth of the local community. Recently, a fifth grade girl was overheard saying, "I just love Father Kostka. He is my favorite priest." Of course this is not an unusual comment for little children (or big children) to make when talking about Father Kostka.

His popularity with children probably began when the Messenger Press asked him to write an advice column called "Dear Granny." He has an uncanny way of communicating with children and does not believe in ignoring them. He will openly tell you that "looking into the face of a child is like looking into heaven." He is always quick to give children encouraging words and a piece of his trademark candy. He will tell you that you must be under 16 to qualify for the candy, but will often break his own rule. Father Kostka states that giving children candy helps them with math, manners, and good will.

Father Kostka came to Saint Joseph's College in 1948 and served the campus as its Chaplain for over 40 years. While at Saint Joseph's he also taught religion and was a professor in the Core program.

While devoted to the youth of our college and local community, he is also a comfort to the sick and elderly. In his current position as the associate pastor for Saint Augustine Catholic Church, one of his duties is to visit sick parishioners. "I have never minded visiting the sick and elderly. I think that they are at ease with me and that I offer them some sort of relief."

Although he is full of life himself, he has seen his fair share of tragedy and has had much practice in the art of compassion. His early days as a priest were served in the military where he was a chaplain during World War II. During that time, he was stationed in San Francisco at a navel receiving hospital.

Father Kostka certainly found the right calling, but becoming a priest was not a career that he planned to pursue. "So many priests plan to enter the vocation early in life. I was sitting in high school one day and a nun walked up to me, tapped me on the shoulder, and told me that I should consider becoming a priest. She felt that I had the vocation. I was flattered and started to consider it after that. I found out, after being ordained, that she did that with every young man."

This man with the sparkling personality stays quite active. He carries out his responsibilities as the associate pastor for the local parish, leads mass twice a week, and is an enthusiastic photographer. In spite of the physical challenges that have recently plagued him (cataracts, hearing aids, and both hips replaced), he still plays golf quite frequently. He is also the biggest fan of SJC athletics that the college has ever had!

This has been a milestone year for Father Kostka. He celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday and the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination. He traveled to the Grand Canyon with friends and had the pleasure of helping a couple that he married, when stationed in Guam, celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Father Kostka, who says that he overcame being a shy child through participating in athletics, will never sit on the sidelines of life. It is not in his nature to stand by while others do the living. He will always find a way to participate. When asked why he is so energetic he answers, "It's good to be active, good to be useful."

He is truly a dandy of a person, a priest, and a friend. The children will tell you, with a knowing smile, that he is a "dandy with candy!"

Honor Roll of Donors

The word "friend" is defined by Webster as a person whom one knows well, a supporter, a sympathizer, an ally. You have proven yourself to be all of these things to Saint Joseph's College.

You know the mission of the institution and are familiar with our presence in higher education; you sympathize with our challenges;

support us with talent and our ally treasure; and are through times of success and difficulty. You are our friend and partner because you take an active role in ensuring the future of the College through your continued financial support. Quite simply, the achievement of our educational mission would not be possible without you!

President's Message

Albert J. Shannon, Ph.D.

Each year as I sit down and look over the "Honor Roll of Donors," I reflect upon how fortunate the College is to have such loyal supporters. I also know that your financial support is critical for the College to continue to thrive and grow into the new millennium.

As we enter the new century, together we can take great pride in the fact that Saint Joseph's College is alive, well, and growing. Through this report, the College's senior staff will join me in giving you a brief update regarding their areas of responsibility.

I am happy to report that the College continues to put its financial house in order, enrollment is climbing, systematic progress is being made to upgrade and refurbish the campus, the faculty continues to touch and inspire the students, and lasting relationships continue to grow with our alumni. None of this has "just happened." It requires the dedication and efforts of many including trustees, administrators, faculty, staff, students, alumni, and benefactors who are willing to work together in a true partnership.

In the coming months, you will hear me talk about the SJC campus of the future. Indeed, we are dreaming and planning for the next 10-15 years. It is a liberating experience to plan for the future. Discussing options for new and upgraded facilities has given the campus renewed energy to meet these goals. Hopefully, our enthusiasm will be contagious and you will choose to support the future campus vision with your gifts.

Your presence in the "Honor Roll of Donors" is overwhelming evidence of your desire to see Saint Joseph's College succeed. For your participation and partnership, I am grateful. I will continue to ask for your generosity so we are able to build toward our future. Together, and as partners, we will accomplish our goals and mold the College's destiny.

Business Affairs

William Shaut, Ed.D.
Vice President

At the end of the 1998-99 fiscal year, the College closed the books with a small deficit. Obviously, the College's finances must be prudently managed for us to make progress toward financial stability. With enrollment increasing, aggressive efforts to enhance fund raising now in place, and the College's endowment growing, the College is achieving a path toward financial balance.

One example of how the College is working to maximize its current resources is the establishment of a Budget Advisory Committee. This group of employees will examine all aspects of the annual budget and make recommendations on issues ranging from the cost of an SJC education to salary increases for faculty and staff. In doing so, their priority is to provide for the needs of the students while many times asking faculty and staff to "do more with less."

The affordability of a college education remains a concern among all educators. While clearly dependent upon tuition dollars for operating capital, the College has held its tuition and fee increases below five percent for each of the past five years.

Enrollment growth brings with it many challenges, but many opportunities as well. Increased resources have allowed the College to better match its capital with the College's mission. If you will examine our expenditures, well over 50 percent is utilized on the education and development (instruction, athletics, student services, the library, and student aid) of our students.

To be competitive in the higher education market, it is imperative that the College moves forward with building and renovation plans. In order to accomplish these objectives, the College has undertaken an 11.9 million dollar bond issue. The funds will be used to refinance the debt on the Core Education Center, build the new student apartment complex, refurbish Gallagher and Halas Halls, refurbish the Science Hall, update the computer network, and begin implementation of the Master Facilities Plan.

One might ask if this is a prudent time for the College to assume a larger debt load. However, investing in the College's facilities, at a time of relatively low interest rates, will enhance SJC's ability to attract and retain students and continue to build a secure financial foundation for the College's future.

Institutional Advancement

K.P. McClanahan, Vice President

In 1998-99, the Office of Institutional Advancement underwent many changes. New leadership offered a fresh perspective in reviewing the College's approach toward fund raising. At the year's end, significant results had been obtained.

The office established an objective to increase alumni giving to the College. A number of initiatives have been established to strengthen the bond between the College and its alumni. Generous support was provided as the number of alumni donors increased by 20 percent. We anticipate that even more alumni donors will be added to the honor roll in the coming year.

The thirtieth annual Trustee Scholarship Dinner and silent auction was a great success and was attended by over 288 alumni and friends of the College. Hopefully, as the College strives to make this event bigger and better each year, we will continue to see our attendance and financial support for scholarships grow.

The Fellows' Program has undergone many changes that became effective in July of 1999. A council established from members of the Fellows' Program made recommendations for these changes to occur with the objective of revitalizing the program and returning it to its rightful place of honor and commitment.

The College is preparing to launch a new capital campaign in 2003-2004. The campaign goal will be established once the master facilities planning process and a feasibility study is complete.

This year a new software program was implemented to accurately keep better account of donor activity. This will allow us to draw useful conclusions regarding the giving trends of our donors for future planning. We will use this information to increase financial support for the College and to support the challenge from the Board of Trustees to raise two million dollars to facilitate the upcoming recommendations from the Master Facilities Planning Committee.

Enrollment Management

David Hoover, Dean

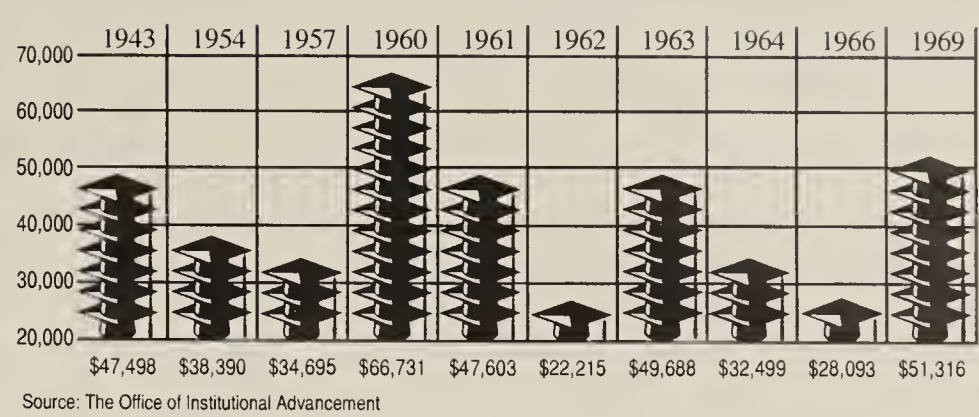

This year has set a tone for enrollment growth at Saint Joseph's College. SJC registered the largest class of new students since 1984. The student population is increasing through a total campus effort. Specific measures have been taken by the offices of admissions, athletics, and financial aid. These offices have made a concentrated effort to: (1) effectively inform potential students about the College and its features; (2) target the inquiry pool of qualified potential students; (3) manage the annual inquiry pool through various methods of communication and visits; and (4) remove obstacles that are in the path of potential students in choosing Saint Joseph's College.

The College is financially impacted by fluctuations in the number of students attending SJC. In order to offer services, expand, and control the cost of education, Saint Joseph's must continue to "grow" its number of students. The College is committed to remaining a small campus of approximately 1100 students. However, with that goal in mind, we have room for growth and are committed to increasing the size of our student body.

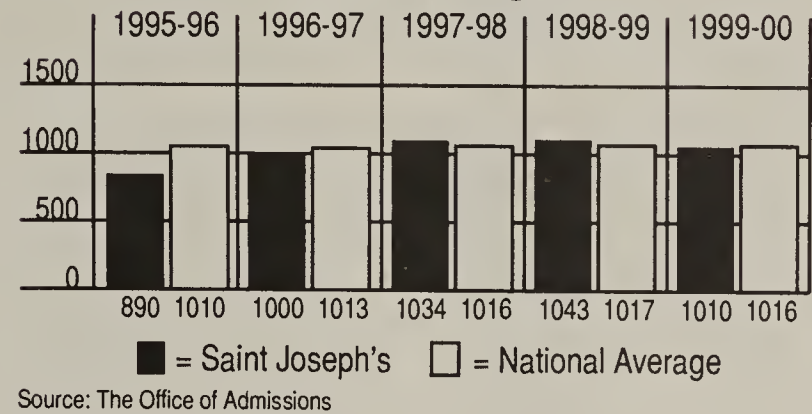

While expanding our enrollment, the College is also strengthening the academic quality of its students. The average SAT score for an incoming student has climbed to over 1000 compared to 890 a few years ago.

With a successful recruiting year now behind us, the outlook for the year to come is quite optimistic. The College's continuing goal is to increase enrollment while seeking academically qualified students who will benefit from the advantages of a liberal arts education.

David Chattin, Ph.D.
Vice President & Provost

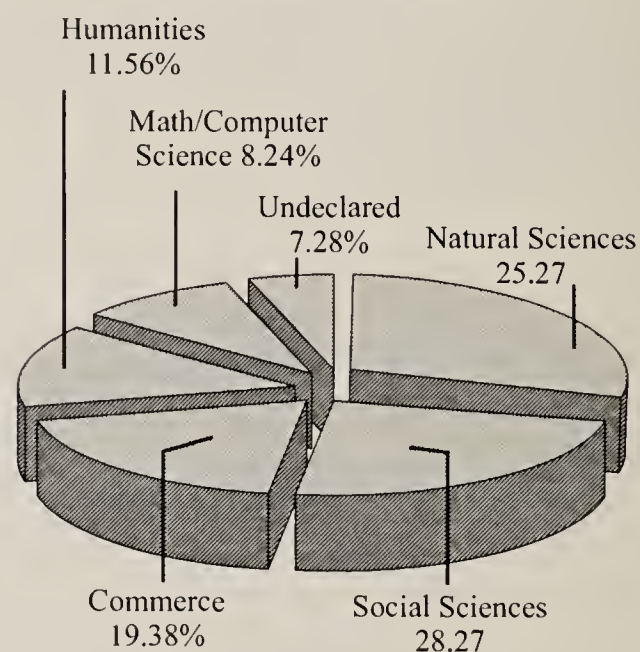

This year the Core program celebrated a thirtieth birthday. With such a milestone, it is important to take a moment to renew the College's dedication to Core. The College remains convinced that Core offers SJC students a unique learning experience that emphasizes the nature of the human existence and examines the values of self worth. The College is confident that Core prepares students for a life of participation, service, and leadership. Obviously, leading authorities agree and continue to focus national attention on the excellence of Core. The Templeton Foundation recently recognized Saint Joseph's College and the Core program as a leader in the development of character in their new guidebook titled The Templeton Guide: Colleges that Encourage Character Development.

Much time has and will be spent on readying the College for academic re-accreditation. In September, the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) made a site visit at Saint Joseph's College. This is a critical accreditation for Saint Joseph's since the U.S. Department of Education recognizes NCATE as the only authorized accrediting body for departments of education in higher education. Word of the College's re-accreditation will be delivered in April or May of 2000.

The College is also preparing to be re-accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. Much of the upcoming year will involve the drafting of a self-study document, which will be based on a strategic planning model. The self-study is an opportunity for the College's faculty and administration to review the strengths and weaknesses of the College. This is the first step in the re-accreditation process with a site visit to come at a later date.

Student Affairs

William Manis, Vice President

Student Affairs provides an active partnership with the academic programs in order to enhance student development. The College is committed to the growth of the whole person within the nurturing environment of the campus. This dedication to the student's complete development encompasses the physical, academic, and spiritual nature of the student. Many divisions exist to serve this purpose under Student Affairs: Counseling Services, Health Services, Campus Life, Student Activities, The Career Center, Campus Ministry, Security and Safety, Conference Events, and Multicultural Affairs.

Here are a few examples of how Student Affairs strives to complement the overall student life experience at Saint Joseph's College. Student Activities coordinates programs and activities to strengthen the social interaction of students.

Campus Ministry strives to enhance the spiritual presence on campus and to develop programs that will serve the spiritual needs of the students. The Career Center provides help for students and alumni seeking employment by offering job fairs and other various programs. Security and Safety provides a secure environment for our students to enjoy college life.

This year an exciting event is occurring that will greatly impact the quality of life for our students. The College is currently building a new residential suite complex. This will be the first new residential facility to be built since 1968. The apartment complex will allow 95 students to live in nineteen apartments. Each apartment will have five private bedrooms, a common family room, a patio, two private bathrooms, and a kitchen. This will also begin the process of renovating existing housing and updating the type of living experience that the College will be able to offer its students.

Fellows' Program: A Time for Change

Recently, President Albert Shannon assembled a group of Saint Joseph's College Fellows to examine the past, present, and future of the Fellows' Program and to assure that it will remain vital. The committee met several times to consider how the Fellows' Program could be renewed. Many ideas were discussed and debated.

The committee reached the conclusion that a Saint Joseph's College Fellow should have a personal identification with the College. A Fellow should accept an obligation to support the College with his or her work, wisdom, and wealth. After thoughtful examination, the committee endorsed several changes for newly inducted Fellows. Current Fellows will continue to be recognized and accorded all of the rights and privileges to which he or she has been entitled to in the past. The following changes became effective in July of 1999.

(1) To sponsor or become a new Fellow will require a gift of $2,000 payable over a five-year period of time. When Father Gross established the Fellows program in 1962, the $1,000 minimum contribution was a large gift for even the most generous of donors. Today, 37 years later, the minimum contribution remains unchanged. If it were to reflect inflation, the amount would be $5,500.

(2) Fellows will be honored for their cumulative lifetime support of the College as well as their initial one-time contribution. As all current and New Fellows achieve higher levels of cumulative lifetime giving, they will be recognized at the annual Fellows' Dinner in one of the nine newly established Fellows' giving categories.

(3) A council of Fellows will be appointed by the president to oversee the Fellows' Program. They will receive nominations and confirm New Fellows. They will advise the president regarding the Fellows' Program and actively participate in the development of increased financial support for the College. The council will also select an appropriate project and goal to which Fellows will be encouraged to contribute.

(4) Fellows will be asked to contribute to the College on an annual basis and support the Fellows' goals and projects. New Fellows who contribute each year will

Mission of the Fellows

They make available to the Board of Trustees and the administration of the College the fruits of their experience.

They represent Saint Joseph's College in their business and professions and seek to interest others in the College and in higher education.

They are identified with the prestige of the College and concerned with its development in the field of higher education and its acceptance in the public mind.

receive an invitation to the annual Fellows' Dinner. If a New Fellow does not contribute at any level for a period of three years, he or she may be designated inactive by the Council of Fellows.

(5) The annual Fellows' Dinner will be enhanced to become the premier, non-academic event on campus. Active Fellows and their spouses will be invited to attend as guests of the College. Additional tickets for guests of individual Fellows will be priced to reflect the cost of the dinner.

(6) Fellows who have given extraordinary service to the College may be honored by their peers. The Council of Fellows may recommend that certain Fellows, who have distinguished themselves over a lifetime of giving, be designated as Distinguished Fellows and/or Life Fellows.

(7) Benefits and honors accorded to Fellows will be enhanced. In addition to the Fellows' Certificate and the privilege of wearing the Fellows' rosette, an annual privilege card will be made available to Fellows to give them specific benefits on campus.

If you have questions regarding the Fellows' Program or would like information on becoming a Fellow, contact the Office of Institutional Advancement at 219-866-6249.

Fellows Adopt Chapel Windows

The Council of Fellows has announced their support of the "Windows on the 21st Century" project. Named as an endorsed Fellows' venture, the council is encouraging its membership to financially contribute to the renovation of the Chapel's windows.

Approximately $250,000 is needed to restore all of the chapel's 12 stained glass windows to their original magnificence. After nearly 100 years, the lead used to secure the ornamental glass has deteriorated and requires refurbishment.

For a gift of $20,000 or more, a bronze plaque of rededication will be mounted below the window to honor the donor or a family member, friend or colleague. All donors of $1,000 or more will be recognized on a plaque to be installed in the Chapel vestibule once the restoration is complete.

To obtain information about the "Windows on the 21st Century" project, call the Office of Institutional Advancement at 219-866-6249.

The stained glass windows in the College's Chapel require restoration. The College Fellows have pledged to raise the needed $250,000.

Windows on the 21st Century

In order to raise $250,000—the amount needed to restore all of the Chapel's stained glass windows—gifts will be needed. Every gift is critically important, regardless of size. However, to achieve the goal, please consider the gifts needed as you make your own contribution.

How to “Leave a Legacy”

By Ann M. O'Hara, Esq.

editor's note: In the Summer 1999 issue of "Contact," an article titled "Leave a Legacy," Your Estate Plan" introduced the national "Leave a Legacy" program. This initiative strives to motivate individuals to make charitable planned gifts as part of an estate planning process. In this issue of "Contact," Ann M. Ohara '85 provides valuable information on how to leave your own legacy to Saint Joseph's College.

Ann is an attorney with the Indianapolis, Indiana law firm of Lewis and Kappes. Her specialty is estate planning, estate administration, and taxation. She has been a practicing attorney since 1990.

As the "Leave a Legacy" campaign embarks, many ask how they can contribute to the future of Saint Joseph's College. In the balance of this Article, I will describe simple ways that you can incorporate Saint Joseph's College into your estate plan that will benefit both you and the College.

(1) Last Will and Testament.

A Last Will and Testament is a document stating the manner in which you wish to have your probate estate distributed upon your death. Your "probate estate" is those assets that are in your name alone at your death. For example, a residence or corporate stock not jointly held would be a part of your probate estate. State law governs the Last Will.

Through your Last Will,

you can gift either cash or personal property, such as corporate stock, to Saint Joseph's College. In your gift, you can limit the purpose of the gift for the use of a specific department or program of the College, such as for the Music Department or the Core Program, or in memory of an alumnus. By making your gift, your estate will be entitled to tax deductions for federal estate tax purposes, and where applicable, for state inheritance tax purposes.

(2) Revocable Living or Loving Trust.

There has been much published about "living" or "loving" trusts. These types of trusts are generally established during an individual's lifetime. The individual serves as both the beneficiary and trustee of the trust during the individual's lifetime.

At the individual's death, all the assets held in the trust are distributed to the beneficiaries designated in the trust agreement. If all of the individual's assets are in the name of the trust, the trust assets can be distributed without going through the probate process. Essentially, this type of trust avoids an individual from having a "probate estate".

Like a Last Will, an individual can provide for a gift to Saint Joseph's College in a living or loving trust. Upon the individual's death, the trust

Top Ten Methods of Making a Gift to SJC

- 1 Include SJC in your last will.
- 2 Contribute stock, mutual funds, real estate or other appreciated property and receive favorable tax benefits.
- 3 Fund a bequest with your IRA or pension plan to avoid double taxation in your estate.
- 4 "Loan" assets to the College through a charitable lead trust and avoid taxes on appreciation.
- 5 Purchase a life insurance policy with the College as the beneficiary and owner.
- 6 Name the College as the beneficiary of an existing life insurance policy.
- 7 Remember a deceased loved one with a memorial gift.
- 8 Honor a special person with a gift in his or her honor.
- 9 Provide yourself with a lifetime income through a charitable remainder trust that may increase your income and provide favorable tax benefits.
- 10 Make an annual cash gift to The College Fund.

agreement can make a gift of cash or property to Saint Joseph's College. The trust will also enjoy the same tax benefits for making a charitable gift as an estate under a Last Will.

(3) Life Insurance Policy.

People sometimes forget that they can designate Saint Joseph's College as a beneficiary for a portion or all of the death benefits under an individual's life insurance policy. Additionally, an individual can gift a life insurance policy to Saint Joseph's College during his or her lifetime and be entitled to an income tax deduction; however, certain restrictions may apply. If you are interested in gifting a life insurance policy, you should contact your tax advisor or the Development Office to ensure that the necessary steps are taken so that you can receive the full charitable income tax deduction.

(4) Retirement Benefits.

One of the most troublesome assets in an individual's estate is the individual's qualified retirement benefits (i.e., 401 (k) plans, money purchase pension plans) and their individual retirement accounts and annuities ("IRA"). If an individual dies with these types of assets in his or her taxable estate and either is not survived by his or her spouse or does not have a spouse, the full value of the deceased individual's retirement accounts will be subject to both Federal income tax and federal estate tax.

There are ways to minimize this adverse tax consequence. One simple way is to name Saint Joseph's College as a beneficiary of either a portion or all of your retirement accounts. For example, Saint Joseph's College could be named as beneficiary of ten percent (10%) of your IRA with the remaining balance to your family or other charities. The distribution to Saint Joseph's College would be both free from federal income and estate taxes.

These are just a few simple and easy ways to make a lasting legacy to Saint Joseph's College while providing tax savings to your family.

How do your College Fund dollars benefit Saint Joseph's College?

"I looked at other Catholic colleges before I chose Saint Joseph's. I know that I made the right decision because the College has helped me grow as a person. I have learned how to be a leader and have strengthened my own beliefs and values."

SJC Named Leader in Developing Character

Saint Joseph's College has been recognized for leadership in the development of student character in The Templeton Guide: Colleges that Encourage Character Development, a guidebook released nationwide on October 22.

SJC was listed as a college that builds character by the Templeton Foundation in their recent publication titled "Colleges that encourage Character Development."

Designed for students, parents, and educators who believe that the development of character matters, The Templeton Guide contains profiles of 405 exemplary college programs in ten categories. Saint Joseph's College is recognized for its Core education program in the category titled "Faculty and Curriculum Programs."

"Saint Joseph's College has a strong commitment to character development and the strength of its program make it a model for colleges and universities nationwide," said Arthur J. Schwartz, Ed.D., Director of Character Development Programs at the John Templeton Foundation. "With The Templeton Guide, we hope to help prospective college students and their parents who want to know what colleges are doing to promote the core values of honesty, self-control, respect, and service to those less fortunate. The Templeton Guide identifies colleges that encourage students to understand the importance of personal and civic responsibility, which will help them succeed in college and beyond. Saint Joseph's work in this area is most impressive."

Intended for high school students, parents, guidance counselors, college administrators, trustees, faculty, and alumni, The Templeton Guide recognizes programs that represent the best practices in the field of character development during the college years. The programs were chosen through a highly selective process that considered clarity of vision and statement of purpose; institutional resources; involvement of institutional leaders; impact on students, faculty, campus, and community; integration into the core curriculum or academic study; longevity; external awards and recognition; and assessment.

Massoels Named Athletic Director

Bill Massoels '89 has been named the College's new director of athletics. Massoels replaces Martin Smith, who left Saint Joseph's to become the director of development at Ottawa University in Ottawa, Kansas.

Massoels has been employed at Saint Joseph's College since 1990. Prior to this appointment, he was the assistant athletic director and head cross country and track coach. He has also served the College as the sports information director and the NCAA compliance officer. Along with his new responsibilities, Massoels intends to continue coaching.

During his tenure as the head coach of the Puma cross country and track teams, Massoels has compiled astounding records in all four programs. At the helm of the track teams, Massoels has guided the men to a 202-72 record, and the women to a 134-92 record. As the cross-country coach, the Lady Pumas have earned a 341-162-2 record, and the men have established a 289-291-3 record.

Massoels has coached ten All-Americans and several Academic All-Americans. The track teams have been nationally ranked in the top twenty-five for the past six consecutive years. This past season, the Puma men captured their first GLVC Indoor Track Championship, and Massoels' most impressive statistic is that 98% of his student-athletes have graduated.

"I am really excited about the opportunity that Saint Joseph's College has given me in being the next Athletic Director at my alma mater," said Massoels. "This is a great opportunity for me and I am looking forward to working with a great staff. I am also looking to continue the things that Marty Smith has started such as the Master Facilities Plan for Athletics and getting the SJC community involved in Puma Athletics."

Massoels graduated from Saint Joseph's College with a bachelor's degree in journalism with a minor in political science. He resides in Rensselaer with his wife, Teresa '89 and their three children Patrick (6), Samantha (4), and Megan (1).

Burger King Honors Edwards

Burger King Corporation has named Daniel Makana Edwards '00 a Division II College Football Scholar Athlete. In honor of his outstanding athletic and academic achievements and his commitment to mentoring the community's youth, Burger King Corporation has donated $10,000 to the College's general scholarship fund in his name. The award was presented prior to kickoff of the October 30 home football game against New Haven.

Edwards is a senior majoring in biology and chemistry. He is a starting offensive tackle for the Pumas. In addition to his academic and athletic endeavors, Edwards is also a campus cleanup volunteer and is involved in the Pro-life Group and the Minority Student Union.

Each week throughout the 10-week program, Burger King Corporation will name eight Scholar Athlete Award winners, two from each division. In recognition of each Scholar Athlete's achievements, Burger King Corporation will donate $10,000 in the athlete's name to his school's general scholarship fund. Four of these winners, one from each division, will be selected as finalists for the 1999 Burger King Scholar Athlete of the Year Award and garner an additional $25,000 for his school. Ultimately, one scholar athlete will be chosen as the overall winner and Burger King Corporation will set up a $100,000 scholarship endowment at the school of the honored winner.

The Burger King College Football Scholarship Program is the single largest corporate commitment of its kind to the sport of college football. The awarding of these scholarships is based on academic achievement, dedication to community service, and athletic ability. Now in its fifth year, the program has already donated a total of $4.3 million dollars in college scholarship funds to 211 colleges and universities.

Daniel Makana Edwards '00 was named a Football Scholar Athlete by Burger King Corporation. In his name, Burger King has donated $10,000 to the College's general scholarship fund. Edwards celebrates with his parents, Jerry and Stella Edwards.
